THE SPECTATOR...

More Than 150 Attend Boro's Gala Armistice Day Banquet

Narberth's Armistice Day banquet Monday night was in competition with what was described as the most active dinner night of the year, with every one of the large Philadelphia hotels catering to some kind of important occasion. Several of them had a particular call on residents of this section.

Nevertheless, more than 150 were present at the Bala-Cynwyd Junior High School, a third of them women, the first time the distaff side has had a look-in on the Legion's annual celebration.

The food was good and the program unusually attractive. William H. Banfield, new Post Commander, veteran of World War II, made a forthright speech. What he said, and the manner in which he said it, enabled the audience to agree that the local Post had made a capable selection.

A presentation was awarded to Clarence M. Beltz, retiring Commander after two terms. Harry Simpson was the Post's spokesman, and he echoed the widespread satisfaction with Mr. Beltz's achievements in office. Young Mr. Banfield will have a grand record to emulate, and he can be sure that Mr. Beltz will be at his beck and call.

Don Kellett, U. of P. ace basketball coach, radio commentator, specialist in youth welfare, talked entertainingly about many things and some of his well-told stories are sure to be bobbing up at other festive affairs. Those there were impressed that he was not exaggerating when he said it would be a sorry blow if the business of making a living ever made him move from Narberth. He gave examples of what he meant, and he convinced at least some of his auditors that recent stirrings for a somewhat more accelerated pace in community concern was an ambition that should receive wider acceptance.

William Kilgard, of Long Island was another speaker, and he seemed quite confused because a Narberth observance was being held in Bala-Cynwyd.

The musical features were well conducted. Lou Luongo was at the piano, and he is a good man at his trade. Geraldine Willner, a pretty blonde dressed in ample yardage, sang in a colorful way and had no trouble in hitting a thrilling high "C" in several difficult selections. The lass could go far with training.

Joe Rankin, a young man from West Philadelphia, played the xylophone in more than noteworthy manner. There are many who say Joe has no equal in his specialty, and most of those present Monday night would be apt to concur.

Douglas C. Miner was the Master of Ceremonies and he executed his task without any need of a Houghton finish. He knows his way about such things, and is also alert to the emoluments of his office, as the first door prize to come out of the hat went to the aforesaid Douglas C. Miner. It should also be noted that he only demonstrated there was nothing up his sleeve after the drawing was made, not before.

Also subject to reasonable inquiry should be the fact that the ton of coal, or perhaps it was a cord of wood, donated by Ralph S. Unne was won by Ralph S. Dunne. Dunne and Miner had been observed in close conversation earlier in the evening. Other door prize winners were as follows: Dan Timoler, Mrs. Ruth Betus, Mrs. T. Delmore, James McCormick, Frank J. Dwyer, Francis Contino, Harry Polch, Joseph L. Kelley, Jr., Roland K. Hewitt, William Aiken, Harry Roser, Vincent Colletti, Charles Garvin, E. A. Whiting, Gordon Roger, Mrs. Andrew W. Smith, Katharine George, C. W. Waters, Jr., H. C. Rollins, C. V. Westman, Guy Mosteller, A. J. Delmore, Louis Ricklin, and Perry Redifer.

Mrs. William H. Banfield, former lieutenant-nurse, attractive wife of the new Commander, hence the Legion's first lady, had garnered the numerous gifts from generous local merchants, as follows:

Specialists Remain on Routine Job

Officers Sent To Traffic School Are Riding Motorcycles

Last year a Lower Merion Township police sergeant and two patrolmen were sent to Northwestern University Traffic Institute, Evanston, Ill., for special training in traffic work and scientific accident investigation.

This week, the two patrolmen, Philip Minnis and Bruce Valentine, are riding motorcycles.

Three Shifts While Minnis and Valentine were on duty as traffic investigators, there was one specially trained traffic man on each of the three police shifts. Now there is one specialist only. Sgt. Joseph Mawhinney, on the day shift.

On all shifts, however, each patrolman handles all accidents on his beat. Minnis and Valentine handle accidents only when they happen upon them.

Some time within the past few months a plan for a traffic bureau was presented to the commissioners by Superintendent of Police Samuel W. Gearhart, at a closed meeting.

Under the plan, it was understood, the Bureau would have been a separate administrative unit of the police department, with its officers responsible directly to Superintendent Gearhart.

The proposed department would have dealt with prevention of automobile accidents as well as punishment of motorists for violations. It would have resulted in a splitting of traffic-work from general police work.

Backers of the proposed department expected to use the traffic bureau to deal with an expected aggravation of the traffic problem in Lower Merion Township.

Results of the closed meeting were not made public. However, Evan L. James, Township Manager, stated that the plan had been returned to Superintendent Gearhart for further study. Gearhart is out of town and could not be reached for comment. In the meantime Sgt. Mawhinney is a one-man traffic investigation specialist.

Among those participating in the discussion will be the Rev. Harold D. Flood, pastor of the Narberth Methodist Church; Ernest Gorin, staff assistant of the RCA-Victor Radio Corporation; Mrs. Allison Hartman, former dress designer and graduate of the School of Industrial Arts; Mrs. Willis Ludwig, former secretary to the director of the Evening School of Applied Science at the Georgia School of Technology; Mrs. G. B. McLaren, chairman of the Child Welfare committee of the Association and Publicity Director of the Narberth Women's Community Club, and Robert W. Neatherly, instructor at Episcopal Academy.

Discussion will center around the following topics: How the school can foster better relations between the home and school; how it can develop citizenship; what the school can do to prevent teachers from leaving the profession; does the modern school need all extra-curricular activities and are they necessary; visual education; transportation of pupils to and from school; homework, its assets and liabilities; education for the teacher; and religious education, its place and purpose.

A social hour will be held under the direction of Mrs. A. L. Cooke, chairman of the Hospitality Committee. The committee includes:

Mrs. William Helzer, Mrs. Harry Watts, Mrs. Adon Horsley, Mrs. Paul Caudwell, Mrs. Harvey Ever-sole, Mrs. Grace Boney, Mrs. Robert Leitch, Mrs. Gilbert McLaren, Mrs. John Clayton, Mrs. E. Lee, Gels-berg, Mrs. Rollin Sidwell, Mrs. Dell Poore, Mrs. John Hogman, and Mrs. Douglas Miner.

Koser Plans Zoning Policy

John M. Koser, new chairman of the Emergency Housing Committee, said Tuesday that he plans to meet soon with Richard W. Thorington, president of the Lower Merion Township Board of Commissioners, to "work something out in relation to township policy in relaxing zoning laws."

Koser, past-president of the Main Line Board of Realtors, volunteered to take over the chairmanship of the housing group from Col. James Genting at last Tuesday's meeting of the realtors at Haverford Court Hotel.

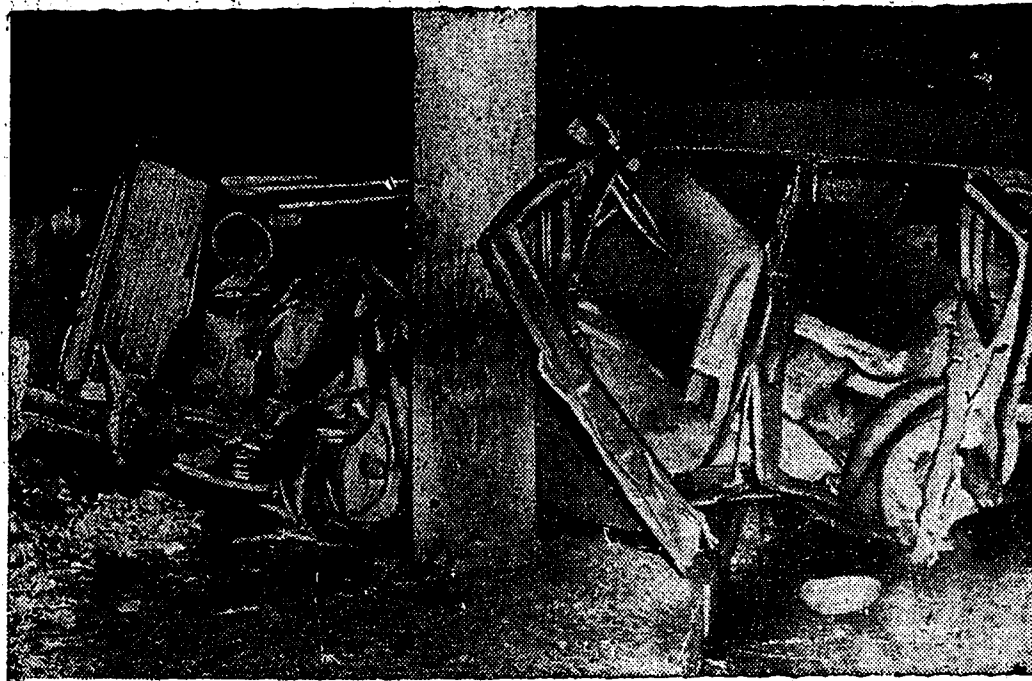

In a statement issued this week, Koser said, "I shall be glad to serve my community and the veterans by assuming the chairmanship of the Emergency Housing Committee if something worthwhile may be accomplished."

"Lower Merion Township officials have signified their desire to help and to cooperate in every way. Locally, much has been done to aid, but little accomplished. Housing Committee members and realtors have scoured the township for vacancies. But vacancies simply do not exist."

"Much was said about the Wright School in Rosemont as a veterans' housing possibility but that fell through. New construction is certainly the answer and we must look to Washington for help."

Five Students Escape Death

Car driven by Episcopal Academy senior which collided with another automobile at 66th Street and City Avenue, Overbrook, and skidded into a telephone pole, injuring five teen-age boys, students at Lower Merion Hi School.—(Courtesy Evening Bulletin).

On their way home from a fraternity party in 69th St., last Thursday night, five Cynwyd and Merion boys were injured when their car, driven by Andrew Foote, 18, of 319 Berkeley Rd., Merion, a senior at Episcopal Academy, collided with another car at 66th St. and City Ave., Overbrook, and crashed into a telephone pole.

The boys, drenched with gasoline from a smashed gas tank, were taken to Bryn Mawr Hospital and treated for multiple lacerations, bruises and broken noses.

The driver of the second car was

Mrs. Mary Gordon Yocum, 55, wife of Howard Yocum, an attorney, of Philadelphia. She and her daughter, Mrs. Howard C. Yocum, were slightly injured, but refused treatment.

The other injured boys, all students at Lower Merion Township Senior High School, were Bob Albrecht, 15, of 20 W. Amherst Rd., Cynwyd; Russell Little, 16, of 125 Righter's Ferry Rd., Cynwyd; George Ellis, 16, of 312 Parsons Ave., Cynwyd, and Frank D. Smith, 17, of 321 Berkely Rd., Merion. Miss Lena Bloom, 46, of 6076 Drexel Rd., Overbrook, is in Bryn Mawr Hospital with a fracture of the left hip, the result of being struck by an automobile in Merion last Thursday night.

Lower Merion Township police said Miss Bloom was struck as she was crossing City Line at Merion Rd. The driver, John C. Sheahan, 3rd, 18, of 18 Merion Rd., Merion, told police he didn't see Miss Bloom until too late to avoid hitting her.

Plan to Change Lighting Fails in Narberth Trial

A plan to improve street lighting in Narberth was tested last week with the trial installation of four new type lights on N. Narberth Ave., at Woodbine Ave.

The plan, presented to the Narberth Borough Council by the Philadelphia Electric Company, proposed to bring street lighting up to standard specified by the Society of Illuminating Engineers.

This standard, while not required by State or Borough law, has been recommended by officials as ideal for small communities.

At the present time, the Borough is spending approximately $400 a year on lighting. The new plan called for the addition of 200 new lights throughout the Borough at an increased cost of about $13,000 per year.

Robert M. Cameron, chairman of the Water, Light and Health Committee of the Borough Council, stated this week that the plan now in the Council's hands would have to be discarded because of the high cost involved.

The four lights installed to demonstrate the new system were considered too strong by members of the committee, and will be removed at the end of next week.

Before they are removed, however, Cameron stated that the deflectors now on the lights will be removed and a different type installed in an effort to deflect to the street, the light that is now being thrown on nearby houses.

"The Council was approached by the Philadelphia Electric Company," Cameron stated, "with a plan they devised to augment the present lighting system in the Borough."

"The lighting facilities we have now are rather poor in several sections in the Borough, and changing or adding to the system has already been discussed by the Council."

"However," he added, "we will not be able to accept the plan which has been offered to us by the Philadelphia Electric Company because of the high cost."

Members of the Council committee will ask the electric company for a new plan which will add to the present system at a much lower cost.

Meeting of Council Nov 18

Discussion at the monthly meeting of the Narberth Borough Council, postponed from November 11, to Monday, November 18, at 8 P. M., will center around the new Shade Tree Ordinance and the new plan to augment the street lighting system of the Borough.

Further details of steps necessary to correct conditions on Hampden Ave., will also be discussed by members of Council.

Regular reports from various committees of the Council will also be included on the agenda.

The meetings under the direction of Walter A. Fox, president, are held the first Monday evening of each month in the second floor of Elm Hall. They are open to the public.

26 Relief Cases

A total of 26 relief cases were reported in Narberth last month by the Norristown office of the State Department of Public Assistance.

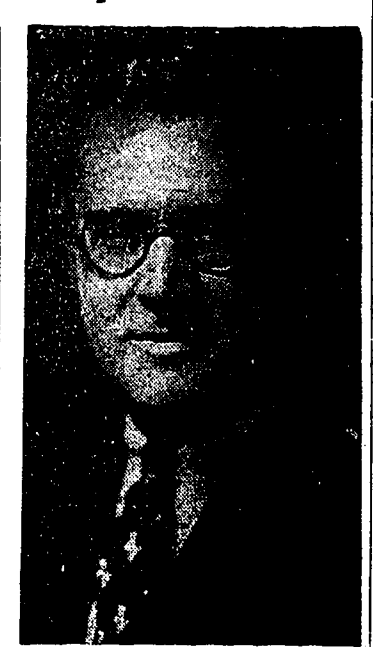

Bell, of Wynnewood, May Be Next Attorney General

Lieutenant Governor John C. Bell, Jr., of Hathaway and Mansion Lanes, Wynnewood, may be named State Attorney General by Governor-Elect James H. Duff.

While Duff has as yet given no indication of his choice to fill the most important cabinet post, political speculation in Philadelphia and Harrisburg has centered on Bell since May when Duff was elected organization gubernatorial candidate.

The Wynnewood man, a prominent Philadelphia attorney, has himself twice been considered for the Governor's chair—this year and in 1942 before now—Senator-Elect Edward received the G. O. P. nomination for governor.

The lieutenant governor's only previous political job was as Secretary of Banking in the cabinet of former Governor Arthur H. James. He is a member of the 1946-1948 Executive Committee of the Republican State Committee.

Students Can't Ride L. M. Buses

Dr. Steckbeck Hits New System of Allocating Funds

Narberth Borough School Board has suffered two serious blows, it was revealed this week.

First, it stands to lose a $6000 appropriation from the State when the Legislature meets next January.

And second, its students who attend Lower Merion Township secondary schools were told by F. A. Dubois, Lower Merion school superintendent, that they no longer may sneak rides on its school buses.

New State Law

A new system of allocating state funds was passed in May, 1945, which provided that schools no longer will be paid according to the number of teachers per school, but instead will be given a sum per unit of students.

A unit was defined as the total enrollment of the school divided by 30—considered the average number of students per class. Therefore, Narberth, which has fewer than 30 students in many of its classes, stands to lose under the new arrangement. The sum has been estimated at $6000.

Dr. Walter Steckbeck, president of the Narberth School Board, will have an opportunity to protest against the system when he meets with the legislative committee of the Montgomery County School Directors' Association, to which he was appointed at its annual meeting last week.

"We actually are being penalized for having a progressive system of education, with more than enough teachers per class," Steckbeck commented when he was asked about the decreased appropriation.

Barred From Buses

Narberth students are again being barred from Lower Merion School District buses, as they were during the war, by the use of the ticket system. Children who live near the Borough line have been able to sneak rides now and again through the good offices of lenient bus drivers.

But irate Lower Merion parents, complaining about conditions of overcrowding on buses have forced the Lower Merion School Board to restrict the buses to Lower Merion children, and no other.

Narberth Borough, which prior to the war paid for rental of two school buses which carried children of the Borough to Township schools, had to discontinue this system under orders from the Office of Defense Transportation during the war. Now there are no longer funds available in the Borough's budget for bus transportation for children.

Legally, neither the Borough nor the Township, is required to provide transportation for children who live less than a mile and half from their schools. No Borough child lives farther, and since no money is available for bus transportation and Lower Merion can no longer find room to carry Borough children who heretofore have been getting rides on its buses, Narberth students will do more walking in the future—either that or they will have to use public transportation.

Dr. Esenwein Dies at 79

Dr. J. Berg Esenwein, a former resident of Narberth and a well-known author, editor and lecturer, died suddenly at Springfield Hospital, Springfield, Mass., October 31, it was learned here this week.

Dr. Esenwein, who was 79, had lived on Woodside Ave., Narberth, for ten years early in the century and had moved to Springfield about 30 years ago.

When he lived in Narberth, he was editor of the old Lippincott Magazine. He wrote textbooks on short story writing, and had been president of Albright College, Reading, Pa.

He taught at Pennsylvania Military College, Chester, and was president of Springfield Correspondence School at the time of his death. He was a member of the Browning Society.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Carrie M. Esenwein, of Springfield. Funeral services were held in Springfield, November 3, and interment was in the family plot at Lebanon, Pa., November 4.

Auto Rustling Risky in Boro

Two Philadelphians have learned that automobile rustling in Narberth is risky business.

Edward A. Boldino, a seaman in the Navy, and Williams Ward were convicted last Monday by a Montgomery County jury of taking an automobile in Narberth October 6 without the consent of the owner.

The sailor, who was convicted in Norristown last February on a similar will be turned over to the Navy to face court martial. Ward was sentenced to a term of four months in the County Prison.

The two men were captured by three Narberth veterans who spotted them tampering with an automobile on Forrest Avenue near St. Margaret's School. Dick Cabrey, former Artillery Captain, Tom Ferguson, ex-B-29 pilot and Jack McKewen, former Army medic, chased the rustlers and (Continued on page 2)

Site on Main Line May Be Selected as Permanent United Nations Headquarters

Political observers in New York and Philadelphia this week were discussing the possibility that a Main Line site might be selected as a permanent headquarters for the United Nations.

The speculation was touched off by the action Saturday of the U. N. Assembly in widening the choice for a headquarters site to the entire United States.

Dr. Robert L. Johnson, president of Temple University, said Sunday he felt the U. N. decision gave the of being named as the site.

While Dr. Johnson, who heads a committee seeking to bring the U. N. here, stated he personally preferred either the Belmont Plateau, in Fairmont Park, or Roxborough, he conceded it was possible that the Main Line might receive the choice.

The case for the Main Line and other Philadelphia suburban sites has long been pressed by Robert Gray Taylor, of Media, chairman of the Delaware Valley Association for United Nations Headquarters.

Taylor has for months been traveling Philadelphia region a "50-50 chance" in between New York and Washington interviewing representatives of United Nations' countries lobbying for the selection of a Suburban Philadelphia site.

Specifically, Taylor has offered to the world diplomats seven possible locations, among them sites in the Haverford-Bryn Mawr area, at Newton Square and at Sycamore Mills.

Taylor has assured them that public opinion in the neighborhood of the sites he has named will not be adverse to selection of a location near their homes as the new "world capital."

The Headquarters Commission of U. N. has specified that it requires an area of approximately ten square miles.

The decision by the U. N. Assembly to allow the site to be selected anywhere in the United States was resisted by the U. S. delegation which wanted only the New York and San Francisco areas considered.

The British delegation, led by Sir Hartley Shawcross, led the fight which made any place in this country eligible, winning the vote by 28-15, with the support of France and Russia against the U. S. and China.

Philadelphia was later specifically mentioned by Sir Hartley, along with Boston, as places that might be "more desirable."

The victory of the British in this dispute nullified months of work by a special U. N. committee, which chose alternate areas in Westchester County, N. Y., and Fairfield County, Conn.

Spree in Auto Ends in Jail

Two 15-year-old boys, parolees from Montgomery County Juvenile Court, were arrested Sunday night after they crashed a stolen car into a pole at Harrogate and Manoa Rds., Penn Wynne. Patrolman Brady Utz, of the Lower Merion police, who saw the car go out of control and strike the pole, collared the boys when they attempted to run away.

Police withheld the boys' names, but said the car was stolen from Brook Haven Rd., Wynnewood, where it had been parked by its owner, Johannus Nini, of Trenton, N. J. The boy who was driving the car was treated at Bryn Mawr Hospital for lacerations of the forehead. The other boy was uninjured.

In the melee, the sailor managed to escape, but was captured later hiding in the back seat of a sedan parked in a private lane off Montgomery Ave. To add to the sport, a Narberth resident, who witnessed the chase, called Lower Merion police and reported that three thugs were beating up two innocent pedestrians. When police arrived, the three Narberth vets had the would-be motorists ready for handcuffs and a ride to the police station in Ardmore.

Merion Man Files Suit Against Hotel

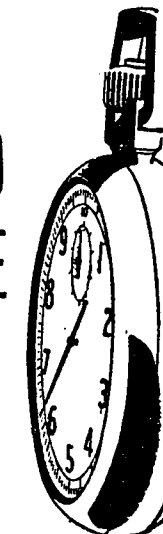

Hyman A. Guth, of 232 Stoneway Lane, Merion, has filed suit in Federal Court, New York, against Ralph Dellevie for alleged over-zealous 'rents' paid by him at Dellevie's Sekon-in-the-Palms Hotel, Pass-a-Grille, Florida.

Guth claims that on Jan. 14, he was charged $135 rent for his wife, himself and two small children for the period Jan. 11-14 inclusive. According to his petition, the maximum allowable rent for a dwelling unit for four people, under the ceilings of the Tampa Defense-Rental Area, was $18 a day.

Additional overcharges, totalling $567, were cited in the complaint. Guth seeks triple the amount or $1,701, in damages.

What's Wrong with this House?

Answer:

That crazy little door, of course! Perhaps that's not enough to discourage buyers today, but that's the same kind of trouble that many people really do have with their electric service! Entrance facilities for electricity are too small in most cases—and homes cannot get enough electricity to run electric appliances efficiently. If you plan to build or remodel—plan, too, to include modern wiring that will accommodate all your demands for modern Electric Living. Don't starve your electric appliances!

Mary B. Allen and John MacBride Plight Troth

Penn Valley Couple Wed Saturday Eve In Bala-Cynwyd

Miss Mary Blythe Allen, daughter of Mrs. Frank Berry Allen, of Flat Rock Rd., Penn Valley, and the late Mr. Allen, became the bride of John B. MacBride, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald S. MacBride, of 428 Wellington Rd., Penn Valley, in a pretty ceremony in St. Asaph's Church, Bala-Cynwyd, Saturday evening. The Rev. Richard T. Lyford officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. William D. Bickel, of Pittsburgh, was gowning in an ivory satin model which was fashioned with a high round neckline, long sleeves with tiny buttons, a fitted bodice and a pleated skirt with large satin roses. Her long french illusion veil was caught with a halo of white ostrich feathers and fell over a long train. She carried a bouquet of white camellias and stephanotis.

Miss Carolyn Hoover, of Williamsport, served as maid of honor and the matron of honor was Mrs. Homer E. Allen, sister-in-law of the bride. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Leonard Borkland, of Ridley Park, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Ruth Parr, of Cynwyd, cousin of the bride.

All were gowning in green faille dresses made on simple lines with flared skirts. Their flowered bouquets matched their bouquets of fall shaded chrysanthemums, and they wore yellow silk gloves.

Christine Allen, niece of the bride, acted as flower girl. She wore a white french organza frock, embroidered with rosebuds, with a green velvet band in her hair, and she carried an old fashioned bouquet.

The mother of the bride wore a striking gown of rust crepe with a brown tulle hat and a corsage of green orchids. Mrs. MacBride chose a royal blue crepe dress with a matching hat of ostrich feathers and a spray of baby orchids.

Mr. MacBride served as his son's best man, and the ushers included

Homer E. Allen, of Penn Valley; Leonard Borkland, of Ridley Park; Russell Medlock, of Arizona, and Robert A. Gilbert, of Penn Valley.

A reception at the home of the bride's mother followed the ceremony. After a wedding trip through Virginia, the young couple will reside in Roslyn Heights, L. I.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Admiral and Mrs. Ben Roreel, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. George Dillingham, of Pelham, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher, of Selingsgrove, Pa.; Mrs. George Anderson, of New Preston, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Rush, of Pittsburgh, and Mr. and Mrs. William D. Bickel, of Pittsburgh.

FBI Agent Speaks to Junior Club

Plan Annual Formal Dance November 30; Ticket Sale Limited

J. Wallace Ransom, Philadelphia FBI agent, spoke on the organization and function of the FBI at last Thursday's meeting of the Narberth Junior Women's Club. There were over 150 at the meeting.

He said that the bureau, which was organized in 1908, was a service for the public and that the public should take advantage of it. During the war, he said the FBI received as many as 2000 calls a day throughout the country. Every call is always investigated, he said, and a good many of them are found to be sent in by cranks with a grudge against someone.

Mrs. E. D. Crocherson, chairman of the project committee, awarded the following prizes: a table radio to Mrs. Ruth Muschamp, of 610 Valley Rd., Llanerch; a steam-automatic iron to Mr. Ferat, of Dewees, and a pressure cooker to Mrs. Edith Gilpin, St., of Gulph Rd., Narberth, a member of the senior club.

Mrs. Crocherson also announced that enough money had been raised to purchase a victrola for the Narberth Youth Dances.

A representative of the Community Chest made a plea for contributions, and Mrs. Harry Bennett made a collection for the Narberth Branch Needlework Guild.

Mrs. Larry Grey, president, introduced guests from the senior club, among whom were Mrs. Samuel J. McCartney, president; Mrs. Ellsworth Clark, and Mrs. Robert Price, senior advisor to the juniors. Mrs. McCartney praised the junior club for its many accomplishments.

It was announced that the juniors would hold a formal dance at the Bala Golf Club in November. Mrs. George C. Stulting will be chairman in charge, and she will be assisted by Mrs. Paul J. Lees, Mrs. Harry C. Bennett and Mrs. E. T. McCormick.

Dance tickets will be limited to 100, and those wishing reservations are asked to contact Mrs. Stulting at Narberth 2904-R.

Mrs. Joseph Kaufman has been appointed assistant to Mrs. Vincent J. Stolz as chairman of the youth dances. At last Friday's dance the following served as chaperones:

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Stolz, Mrs. Joseph Kaufman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Price, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. O'Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tyler, Mr. Larry H. Grey, Mr. Barrett C. George, Mr. H. J. Eggmore and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Arnold.

A committee of seventh and eighth grade students from Narberth Public School and St. Margaret's School, will be appointed to make plans for a Christmas Dance to be held December 27.

On Thursday, November 21, circles 2, 3 and 4 will meet. Circle No. 2 will meet for a covered dish luncheon at the home of the leader, Miss Helen Strickler, 109 Grayling Ave., Narberth; Circle No. 3 will meet at 2 P. M. at the home of Mrs. John Batchelor, 112 Essex Ave., Narberth. The circle leader is Mrs. Fred Planholtz.

SPORTS SCENE

By JACK FORD

Haverford High track followers weren't surprised a bit last week when Princeton University press releases featured a freshman cross-country runner named Stan Johnson. His name is synonymous with record running at Haverford.

Those who have followed Ford's fortunes in track and cross-country will readily recognize him as the blond little guy who looked as though he couldn't run around the block without falling over. He's unbeaten at Tigertown this year.

Princeton publicity agents say the Tigers have come up with a new teacher and pupil organization that is attracting spectators to Palmer Stadium for the finish of cross-country meets. That hasn't happened since Bonny Billy Bonthron was smashing all standards for the Princetonians.

The new teacher is Peter J. Morgan, bespectacled, 38-year-old native of Trenton. Morgan, who turned out two national interscholastic cross-country teams at Trenton High, previously ran for Notre Dame and New York Athletic Club.

"We have something in Stan," says Morgan. "I get a tremendous kick of just watching the little guy run."

Johnson, whose short, stubby legs have been running all opposition into the ground, stands a mere 5-foot-6. He's always waiting on the finish line with a word of encouragement for Tiger teammates finishing behind him.

Son of an ex-City College of New York runner, Johnson at 17 is in his fourth year of campaigning. He started at Haverford in 1944, running the mile in 4:58 and the half-mile in 2:11. The following year he pared the times to 4:47 and 2:08. Last spring, taking district laurels in both events, he turned the mile in 4:35 and the 880 in 2:04.

This fall, Johnson has been clocked in 10:38.8 over Princeton's two-mile cross-country layout. That's 21 seconds better than the best time turned in last spring by any Princeton two-miler on the Palmer Stadium cinders and only a sixteenth-second off the winning two-mile time in the 41st Princeton-Yale meet last May.

Johnson loves the exacting training grind and only worries about head winds, that can play havoc with a 100-pounder. "However," Stan gleefully points out, "I'm gaining weight as I often do when I'm running regularly."

He's right. Since September he has soared all the way from 102 to 103 pounds!

Valley Forge Military Academy hasn't enjoyed spectacular success on the football field this season—the Wayne cadets were unbeaten last year—but in Dick Doheny they boast one of the Philadelphia district's best schoolboy passers.

Valley Forge has scored seven touchdowns in six games. Precision passes from Doheny, of Teaneck, N. J., have accounted for six touchdowns. He caught a pass from Quarterback Red Stein for the other against unbeaten New York Military Academy.

The slim, 160-pound left halfback threw three scoring passes against Lower Merion, when Valley Forge lost the season's opener, 25-19. He hung two on the hook against William Penn High of Harrisburg, after sustaining a knee injury against

West Chester at Haverford; Aces Invade Chester

Lansdowne Beaten By Ford Gridders; L.M. Upsets Eagles

Making their final appearance prior to the Thanksgiving Day classic with Upper Darby, Haverford High's footballers will meet a highly-regarded West Chester team this Saturday afternoon at Brookline.

West Chester, long one of the Ford's most troublesome opponents, battled Media High to a 6-6 tie last week. The invaders are expected to extend Haverford in Saturday's meet.

Meanwhile, Haverford rolled to its third straight triumph by overpowering Lansdowne High, 26-1, last Saturday. Coach Bill Stinson's charges gave one of their peak performances this season.

Scoring in every period but the third, the Fords proved impressive on the offensive and impregnable while on the defensive. Lansdowne's Lords never threatened.

Haverford capitalized on a 40-yard pass play to score in the opening period, then tallied three more touchdowns—two in the fourth period—on spectacular sprints by Charlie Anderson and Bud Anderson and Anderson's aerial to Mike Kirschner.

Bob Steiert, Haverford halfback and one of three regulars from the 1945 team, touched off the initial touchdown. Pading to his right, he connected with John Trickett for 40 yards and the score.

In the second period, Anderson—whose bull like rushes had the Lords reeling all afternoon—smashed into the clear on an off-tackle thrust and raced 41 yards to a touchdown behind crisp blocking.

The Fords added two more touchdowns, which were needed only as window dressing, in the fourth quarter. But Arnold, a member of Haverford's jayvee team last year, sprinted 35 yards to tally. Arnold then passed to Kirschner for another score. Arnold added two extra points.

Lower Merion High will attempt to make Chester its seventh football victim of the season Saturday afternoon, playing the Delaware County gridders on the foreign field.

The Ardmore Aces will face a rebounding Chester eleven, for Radnor held the Delco gridders to a 0-0 tie Saturday in one of the season's minor surprises. The standoff indicated the Red Raiders will be tougher than anticipated for the annual Lower Merion-Radnor game at Villanova Stadium, Nov. 23.

Coach Dick Mattis' Aces rolled to the season's sixth triumph last Saturday, eking out a 14-7 triumph over Norristown to snap a two-game losing streak. Previously, L. M., had lost to Ridley Township and Upper Darby.

Norristown, figured to fall before the Aces in a one-sided game, proved unexpectedly obstinate. It wasn't until the fourth quarter that Lower Merion finally nailed down the decision, after both had scored in the preceding period.

The Aces struck through the air for both touchdowns. Dick Ryder, right end who played for Bala-Cynwyd Junior High last season, accounted for a score in the third period. Joe Coull counted for Norristown's Eagles.

When Don Shaver added the extra point for L. M. and Abbott duplicated for the Eagles, they were right back where they started from going down the home stretch.

It was then that the Mattismen finally pulled it out of the fire. Don Townsend, husky quarterback, pitched a pass to Larrupin' Len Shephard. The fleet halfback gathered it in behind Eagle defenders and outran them to the goal line. Shaver again booted the point and thereafter L. M. withstood Norristown's frantic thrusts in the closing minutes.

Smedley Rally Defeats Bala Eleven, 38-0

By JAMES M. IRWIN

After Bala-Cynwyd Junior High had battled them on even terms throughout the first half, Smedley Junior High gridders, of Chester, rallied in the last two periods to score a thumping 38-0 triumph Friday.

Leading the Chester eleven's assault were Jack Carter and Bill Yasnitz, fleet halfbacks, who scored three touchdowns between them and two extra points. Carter contributed two touchdowns.

Other six-pointers were accounted for by Dewees, hard-fighting fullback, and Joe Logamen, a substitute. When the score started to get out of hand, Bill Green, coach of Bala's Knights, began to clear the bench of players and all in uniform but one injured player saw action.

Rockets To Meet Reds and Cleveland

The Providence Reds, the Cleveland Barons, in that order, will furnish the next real tests for Coach Herb Gardiner's Philadelphia Rockets in American Hockey League combat.

The Reds come to the Arena for an 8:30 game on Saturday night, November 26, while the Cleveland Barons move in the following Wednesday. It will be the first appearance of both clubs in Philadelphia since the Arena-owned Rockets returned to the American League this season.

Brookline Grid Kids Win Over Oakmont School, 7-0

Gordon Hutton scored every point as Brookline School defeated Oakmont School, 7-0, in their 24th Haverford Township Grade School Football League meeting Monday before 800 at Haverford High field.

Hutton, peppery little quarterback who spearheaded Brookline's formation, capped a 46-yard advance on the 80-yard gridiron by plunging for a third-period touchdown. Hutton, who weighs 87 pounds, hit tackle for the extra point.

John Witmer, left end; David Fothergill, left guard, who tips the scales at a "mammoth" 106 in this league; Jimmy Tait, right end, and Wesley Hackman, Jr., right halfback, and son of West Philadelphia High School football coach, figured in plays that stopped Oakmont's running and aerial attack in the final period.

As a result of its victory, Brookline finished runnerup to undefeated Chestnutwold School, which won the league crown last week. The

Haverford In Tie

Haverford College, tied with Swarthmore for the Middle Atlantic Association lead, scored its third soccer triumph by defeating Ursinus, 6-2, Saturday at Collegeville. Jones scored twice for the Hornets, while Clayton, Matlack, Austed and Post accounted for others.

Brookline-Oakmont series which started in 1930 finds Oakmont on the long end with 16 victories against eight losses.

The Navy estimated that the Women's Reserve replaced more than 50,000 men for sea duty in World War II, enough to man a major task force.

Villanova To Play at Florida U.

Speedy Bob Polidor, Villanova College sophomore halfback, placed a new record in the intercollegiate football books with his thrilling 109-yard run against Miami.

Polidor's dash was the first for this distance since 1931, when Edmond Burke of Mississippi ran the same distance against Alabama. The run erased a mark placed in Villanova's sports archives by Ed Melanson in 1926. He ran a kick-off 98 yards against St. Joseph's College and also contributed an 85-yard touchdown sprint that same day.

Polidor scored one touchdown on a 28-yard run with a pass interception and Ralph Pasquariello accounted for two as Villanova defeated the University of Detroit, 23-6, Friday night in the Motor City.

Villanova will seek its sixth triumph in 10 games in the season's final Saturday night, playing University of Florida at the Gators' Gainesville gridiron. It will be Villanova's second meeting with a Florida eleven within two weeks. The Wildcats earlier lost to the University of Miami, 25-21.

Valley Forge Plays Bullis Here Sat.

Valley Forge Military Academy gridders will conclude their 1946 season Saturday afternoon, meeting Bullis Prep on the Wayne cadets' new Alumni Field.

Despite consistent aerial strikes, Valley Forge bowed to undefeated Perkiomen School, 19-0, last Saturday before 3500 at Wayne. The invading Indians scored in every period but the third.

Valley Forge had one score nullified by a second period penalty, after Dick Doheny had passed 35 yards to Quarterback Red Stein. Karl Heininger was thrown on Perkiomen's five as the game ended after snatching one of many Doheny heaves.

Peddle Football Stars

L. M. that has handicapped him all season.

Against undefeated Mercersburg, Doheny heaved another touchdown pass. His bull's-eye aerials accounted for substantial gains last Saturday against Perkiomen and one connected for a score which was nullified by a penalty.

Cool and unruffled in the face of fast-charging enemy forwards, Doheny usually manages to hit his mark. He never makes the mistake of deliberately grounding the pass or frantically tossing it into the arms of onrushing tacklers. And we've seen many more experienced passers in college ranks make that oftentimes fatal error.

Haverford College Defeats Hamilton

Haverford College gridders regained victor y column by beating Hamilton, 40-14, Saturday on the winner's Walton Field. It was the Hornets' third triumph in six starts.

Led by Charlie Boteler and Eddie Test, hard-running halfbacks, the Hornets hung up three touchdowns in the third quarter. Boteler accounted for three six-pointers and Test, two.

Of 7,000 Sea Scouts who volunteered for the Navy during World War II, 6,082 were commissioned in the Naval Reserve. More than half of the 285,000 Naval Reserve officers were former Boy Scouts.

By scrapping ships now slated for the active fleet, the Navy should realize less than one percent of their original cost. Instead, the Navy will preserve 2,200 ships in two inactive fleets for 20 years at approximately the same cost as their scrap value.

Cynwyd Club Wins In Field Hockey

The once-beaten Cynwyd Club remained in the running for the women's Philadelphia Field Hockey Association title by beating Cheltenham Hunters, 7-0, at Friends Select School. It was Cynwyd's fifth triumph this season.

Merion Calicket Club was routed, 8-0, at Swarthmore High as the Royals registered their sixth triumph. The pace-setting Royals comprise ex-Beaver College players. They own a one-point margin over undefeated Philadelphia Cricket Club, 5-3 victor over Swarthmore Club.
